IMPORT AND BANKING CO. -A TRADE

H. A. T. Witte, in cross-examination, said the instructions I sent on the advice of Mr Johnson. The design was what I expected. I consulted and arranged with our Chinese customers about the alterations. It was not arranged that the boxes should be kept as like Brook's as possible. After this, several compradores were called who said that the two kinds of cotton were easily distinguishable by the differences in the make-up. Mr Robinson then summed up. He contended that unless the plaintiffs could lay claim to a monopoly of all the elements of the designs used on their boxes they

THE COLLAPSE AT PEKING. The N.-C Daily News writes :- It seems pretty clear that, as usual, the Chinese have triumphed over the foreigners at Peking. China has had her usual good fortune, and the energy for which the Japan Mail praised the British Minister so highly has died out, and things are about where they were a year ago. Some claims have been made, the foreign Powers have taken into have done one great service. The two Viceroys who have control of the Yangiza valley from Ichang to the sea agree with the missionaries that the notorious anti-foreign and anti-Christian publications of Huwhile making general fulminations against intended for the Pope's private ear. We lately had the satisfaction of learning the authors of these publications, they do not profess to have taken any steps to discover and abolish their source. The duty of tracing them to their source has been undertaken by Dr Griffith John, and his letters show how thoroughly he has sucgooded. He first discovered the author of one of these books, he found at Huangpi the houses from which copies of it were being disseminated, and where blocks for reprinting it were being or had been cut; and he has now made public sul at Hankow, Mr Gardner, who has in turn no doubt communicated them to the Vicercy at Wuchang. We do not imagine that there will be any result. No harm has fallen on Mr Chou Han, though he asked to be punished if he had done anything wrong in disseminating this literature : nor is it likely that any harm will befall the proprietor of the Teng Mcu-hwa shop, or the Prefect of Changsha. It is as we said ; some of the phenomena have been checked, but the causes remain unchecked, to produce fresh phenomena after a decent interval, during which the foreign Ministers accept the assurances of the Tsungli Yamen that everything is quiet again, and will remain so. To Peking Hugan is a slumbering volcano, with which they do not dare to meddle, and the good resolutions which fired the foreign Powers two or three months ago have grown cold. The settlement of the disturbance at Tengnan Fu, mentioned by our Hankow correspondent, is a typical one, and if the British Minister is content with it, it must be all right. He is evidently now of opinion that remonstrance with China has been carried too far, and he has no doubt explained to the Tsungli Yamen that the indiscretion shown by the Hankow Defence Committee. in alarming H.E. Chang Chih-tung so far as to make him think that Wuchang was to be attacked, will not occur again. Perhaps we shall bear soon that it has been decided that it is unfriendly for British subjects to ask for compensation for the property they have lost, except at Wundeh.
